Philadelphia, October 24, 1916.

TO HON. THOMAS B. SMITH, Mayor of Philadelphia, and to the PRESIDENTS AND MEMBERS OF SELECT AND COMMON COUNCILS.

GENTLEMEN:—That governments obtain the money required for expenses by means of taxation is an axiom almost as ancient as the world itself. We find the Provincial Council of Pennsylvania declaring in 1633 that "a publick tax on land ought to be raised to defray the publick charge." Nor is the chase for additional revenue a new game in Philadelphia. The Journal of Select Council for 1865, on page 242 (Appendix No. 58), contains the report of the Commissioners appointed to revise the tax laws relating to the City of Philadelphia. Although the occasion for their appointment was the Act of Assembly just passed, to wit, that of August 25, 1864, which conferred upon City Councils the power "to levy a tax for municipal purposes on all subjects of taxation specified by the 32d section of the Act of 29th of April, 1844, and to provide by ordinance a system for the assessment thereof, and for the collection of taxes thereon." The Commissioners declined to frame such an ordinance until further aid should be given by the State Legislature, venting their complaint against Sec. 32 of the Act of 1844 in these words:

"This section, to which the City is referred as the source of power to increase her revenue, is, in itself, in some particulars obscure; and in some of its objects not such as to bear much further pressure without driving away capital to the injury of the commercial business of the City, and consequently to impair its growth and the general prosperity. Its inefficient execution has, heretofore, been relied upon to diminish its power of evil, in seeming forgetfulness of the evil of keeping in existence a law which the people are constantly asked to respond to, but are never expected or required to obey. * * *

"There are obvious difficulties in attempting to enforce the section in question without further legislation. The first to be noticed is the fact that for twenty years the people have been educated to slight and disregard its provisions; and without further stringent enactments to enforce compliance with it, we cannot expect the officials or the people to volunteer to amend their delinquencies."

In contrasting the advisability and advantage of taxing both real and personal property, the report contained this statement :

“Real estate alone is fixed and immovable, and must bear the ultimate pressure of the local taxation. The question for its owners to consider and solve is how much taxation will capital bear without yielding to the pressure and passing away, and what will countervail that pressure? If capital is driven away, population goes with it, and is gathered round distant enterprises. Without capital, houses, warehouses, and manufactories cannot be built; and without populations these cannot be occupied, nor produce rent for taxes, nor can markets for the produce of the farmers be sustained. Capital must be retained to be the life of all business and enterprise, and to maintain the growth of cities and the price of its real estate. To be retained it must have its fair profit, and not be unduly taxed.”

Another committee appointed to prepare a bill for the more general distribution of taxation made its report to Councils on February 16, 1871. (Appendix to Journal of Select Council, No. 52, p. 258.) That committee made a historical and comprehensive study of the whole subject of taxation in and outside of Pennsylvania. Because they may be pertinent in our discussion I select a few excerpts from the report.

“The committee have considered the resolution as a request to prepare a bill for taxation of all personal property as now enforced in some of the States of the Union. To this, after an examination of the subject, there appeared so many grave objections that we cannot refrain from stating them for your consideration, in the belief that no tax bill is desired by you that will injure the business interests of the City, and stop or retard the growth of our industrial establishments.

“Capital is the life blood of trade and commerce, and the means by which manufacturing enterprise is enabled to grow and prosper. Capital may be easily transferred from place to place, and it may be taken as a self-evident proposition that it will seek the point where, with equal security against loss, it will produce the largest profit. * * *

“Money withdrawn from active circulation in the business or improvement of a city, induced by taxation or any other cause, is an injury to the inhabitants of all conditions in life, whether they be employer or employed, not only depressing existing operations, but in causing a limitation of their extension and advancement. * * *

“It is fair to presume that most of the capital at interest held by citizens not engaged in active business will, under the pressure of taxation, seek compensation by flight or investment in the securities above indicated, and that the weight of the levy would fall, in this City, on capital in business.

“Will the owners of real estate be relieved of any of the weight of local taxation by imposing a part of the levy on the business of the City?

“Business and industrial establishments alone give value to City real estate. With it, the real estate can be made to produce revenue, maintain or increase in value. Without it, comes depreciation in values and want of occupation for large classes of people. If, therefore, a tax imposed on the business interests of the City would have an unfavorable effect upon its growth and prosperity, the transfer of a part of the tax levied to property in business would, in effect, be an injury to the owners of real estate. This, we think, would be the result. Of the capital in business in this City the largest interest is in manufacturing. To the prosperity of our industrial and manufacturing establishments, we have grown and maintained our position as the second city in the Union in the last decade. Thousands of families are maintained by that interest, and whilst we may attribute our advance in this respect, in part, to our favorable location, well-housed population, and the fine agricultural country surrounding us, yet the ability of the manufacturer to compete in other markets with the manufacturer of Massachusetts and Connecticut is more largely owing to the fact that here the capital of the manufacturer is untaxed than has been generally supposed. * * *

“The aggregate of the establishments of these enterprising men has made our City the largest center of manufacturers in this country. The business which they have concentrated here gives employment to and sustains an important part of our population and materially assists in maintaining the value of real property. We cannot afford to try the experiment of imposing a tax on our manufacturing interests.

“The resolution of reference requests the committee to prepare a bill for the more general distribution of the burden of taxation, and this opens a very intricate subject for examination. All taxes imposed upon property, real or personal, will, if possible, be reimposed by the taxed upon the consumer of the article taxed, and, if practicable, a profit will be added to it. It is cheaper for consumers to pay the tax upon one than upon six articles, and it is a question not free from doubt if the burden can, under existing taxes, exempt loans, and the necessity for encouraging trade and commerce be more equally distributed than by our present subjects of levy. A tax on incomes would probably equalize the burden to a greater extent, but that has not been considered by us as an acceptable form of taxation. In cities, every person, either as tenant, owner or boarder, must contribute his or her portion in the taxation of real estate, and whilst absolute equality can never be obtained in rating it according to value, the occupant of a dwelling valued at $60,000 pays sixty times the tax that is received from a $1,000 house, and business contributes directly by the occupancy of stores, warehouses and factory buildings. * * *

During the administration preceding the present, a committee was assembled to consider this question of taxation, but no printed report, either of its deliberations or recommendations, is at hand. The message, however, of the Mayor to Councils dated September 19, 1912, in its recapitulation suggested as positive, probable and possible sources of new revenue, equalization of real estate assessments, taxation of physical property of public service corporations, occupation tax, increase of one-half per cent. on City deposits, assessment and taxation of vault space under sidewalks, charge for use of City conduits, wharves, etc., automobile tax of 25 or 50 cents per horse power, tax on overhanging signs and household effects, etc.

Having thus, somewhat fully, narrated the history of previous efforts upon this all-absorbing problem, which has in the past, does at present, and will in the future occupy the very forefront of the public stage, let us examine for ourselves its present status.

For the purposes of our discussions I shall divide my subject into three parts, and consider them in order. I. Present Objects of Taxation. II. Councilmanic Privileges and Licenses. III. Suggestions for Additional Legislation.

I. PRESENT OBJECTS OF TAXATION.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania treats of the subject of taxation in Article IX, and in Section 1 provides: "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws: But the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, and institutions of purely public charity."

Section 2 provides: "All laws exempting property from taxation other than the property above enumerated shall be void."

And in Section 7, Article III, the General Assembly is prohibited from passing any local or special law exempting property from taxation.

In pursuance of the authority given by Section 1 of Article IX, the General Assembly, from time to time, has passed acts exempting from taxation the objects therein enumerated.

Since, then, municipal ability to levy taxes depends upon authority given by Acts of Assembly, it is necessary to examine the City's powers in the light of legislative grant. The guide post which starts us upon our journey is the heretofore referred to Act of August 25, 1864, P. L. 1030.

"The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia shall have the power to levy a tax for municipal purposes on all subjects of taxation specified by the Thirty-second Section of the Act of April Twenty-ninth, One thousand eight hundred and forty-four, and to provide, by ordinance, a system for the assessment thereof, and for the collection of taxes thereon." (Amended as to assessment by Act of March 14, 1865, P. L. 320, and supplements).

This Act specifically prescribes our course, and directs us at once to the first and most important station in our pilgrimage, the 32d Section of the Act of April 29, 1844, P. L. 499, which is as follows:

"AND WHEREAS, It is necessary that provision be made for the payment of the interest on the State debt: therefore be it further enacted that from and after the passage of this Act, all real estate, to wit: houses, lands, lots of ground, and ground rents, mills and manufactories of all kinds, furnaces, forges, bloomerics, distilleries, sugar houses, malt houses, breweries, tan yards, fisheries and ferries, wharves and all other real estate not exempt by law from taxation; also all personal estate, to wit: horses, mares, geldings, mules, and neat cattle over the age of four years; also all mortgages, money owing by solvent debtors, whether by promissory note, penal or single bill, bond or judgment; also, all articles of agreements and accounts, bearing interest, owned or possessed by any person or persons whatsoever, except notes or bills for work and labor done and bank notes; also all shares of stock in any bank, institution or company, now or hereafter incorporated by or in pursuance of any law of this Commonwealth or of any other State or government; and on all shares of stock or weekly deposits in any unincorporated saving fund institution, and all public loans or stocks whatsoever, except those issued by this Commonwealth, and all money loaned or invested on interest in any other State; also all household furniture, including gold and silver plate, owned by any person or persons, corporation or corporations, when the value thereof shall exceed the sum of three hundred dollars; also all pleasure carriages, both of two or four wheels; salaries and emoluments of office; all offices, and posts of profit, professions, trades and occupations, except the occupation of farmers, together with all other things now taxable by the laws of this Commonwealth shall be valued and assessed and subject to taxation for the purposes in this Act mentioned, and for all State and County purposes whatsoever."

Some of the objects for taxation enumerated in the Act have since been eliminated by subsequent legislation. The Act of April 1, 1845, P. L. 280, almost completely removed ground rents, by providing for their being taxed only under certain contingencies, to wit, where there was "No provision made in the ground rent deed that the lessee shall pay the taxes on the said ground rent." The power to tax "the running or book accounts of merchants or others, for goods sold or work done," was taken out of the operation of the Act by the Act of March 5, 1847, P. L. 396. The Act of January 3, 1868, P. L. 1318, repealed so much of Section 32 of the Act of 1844 as imposed a tax for State or County purposes upon any stockholder holding in his individual capacity shares of stock in any institution or company incorporated under the laws of Pennsylvania, which, in its corporate capacity, is liable to, and pays into the State Treasury, the tax on capital stock imposed by the Act of April 12, 1859, P. L. 529. Under this Act, as well as under the Acts of June 8, 1891, P. L. 229, and of June 17, 1913, P. L. 507, when a corporation has paid the capital stock tax imposed by the laws of this Commonwealth, the shares of its stock are not liable to taxation in the hands of the holders. Household furniture, watches, and pleasure carriages were exempt by the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 114, and by the Act of June 3, 1915, P. L. 785, machinery and tools used in manufacturing in any mill or manufactory are not to be considered or included in determining the value of real estate.

Judicial interpretation, too, plays an important part in limiting the general scope of the Act of 1844. Our Appellate Courts have held that the property of a quasi-public corporation—or, as they have been called, corporations affected with a public interest—which is ordinarily and properly pertinent and indispensably necessary to the proper operation of the works of the corporation, and to the enjoyment and exercise of the privileges and franchises granted to it by its charter, is not included within the meaning “real estate” as used in the general tax laws, and hence is not subject to taxation for County, City, school or other local purposes, unless expressly made subject thereto.

These judicial decisions have placed in this exempt class the land and all buildings necessary for the operation of railroads, such as telegraph offices, round houses, engine houses, car sheds, blacksmith, carpenter and paint shops, store houses, tool houses, oil and waste houses, turn tables, coaling houses, docks and tipples, fuel stations, water stations and tanks, weigh scales, cattle yards, storing sheds, passenger and freight depots and platforms, together with houses for engineers and other employees. Similarly exempt is the property of a street or passenger railway company, e. g., its tracks, cars, turn tables, land used for the offices of operating officers, stalling cars, barns, stables and power houses. Likewise, the land, buildings, machinery and appliances of gas, electric light or power, telegraph, telephone and water companies.

Being called upon to further define the limitations of the Act of 1844, the courts have declared that the salary of a minister of the Gospel employed by an incorporated religious society is not taxable as the salary of an office; but that the position of a minister of the Gospel employed at a salary by an unincorporated religious society is taxable as an occupation; that the term "all offices" in the Act includes the office of a Judge of the Common Pleas; that the Act is unconstitutional and void in so far as it assumes to authorize the assessment, levy and collection of a tax on offices and posts of profit held under the Constitution and laws of the United States; that the position of professor in a university is not taxable as an office, but as an occupation or profession; that offices, posts of profit, professions, trades and occupations are property within the meaning of Article IX, Section 8, of the State Constitution, limiting the amount of debt that may be incurred by a municipality, and are to be included in the aggregate valuation of taxable property upon which the percentage of indebtedness is to be calculated; that in assessing occupations, a tax of a sum certain may be imposed upon all occupations, or the taxing authorities may classify different occupations, and assess a uniform tax upon each class, but an occupation tax cannot be based upon the amount earned by each individual in his occupation, as such tax would violate the constitutional provision requiring uniformity of taxation; that under the guise of an "occupation" tax, an income tax cannot be levied nor collected by a city.

In connection with this last judicial utterance I deem it sufficiently important to quote from the opinion of Mr. Justice Paxson, in re Banger's Appeal, 109 Pa. 79, on pages 94 and 95:

"It may be asked how an occupation is to be assessed, and how is the constitutional mandate to be complied with? The answer is not difficult. A tax of $100 upon all occupations would be uniform. We are at once confronted with the objection that it would be unjust to tax the occupation of a laborer the same amount as a merchant, a physician, or a lawyer. The injustice of such an exercise of the taxing power may be conceded without in any degree impairing the force of the argument. The objection is one that appeals more to the legislative than to the judicial department of the government. The proper result may possibly be reached by classification. Thus, it may be that physicians, lawyers, clergymen, merchants, bankers, manufacturers, mechanics, etc., may be classified, and a uniform occupation tax assessed upon each class. But it will not do to tax one member of a class $100 and another member of the same class $1,000 upon the supposition, or even upon the fact, that the one earns more than the other. An "occupation" tax is peculiar in its character. It is not a tax upon property, but upon the pursuit which a man follows in order to acquire property and support his family. It is a tax upon income in the sense only that every other tax is a tax upon income; that is to say, it reduces a man's clear income by the precise amount of the tax. But it is an income tax in no sense. It will be time enough to assess an income tax when the Legislature authorizes it. At present no such authority exists."

Next in importance, as we pursue our investigation, is the Act of June 17, 1913, P. L. 507. Prior to the 1913 session of the Legislature, the classes of personal property hereinafter specified were taxable for State purposes at the rate of four mills on each dollar of the value thereof (three mills being returnable to the City). In that year a great number of our citizens, headed by the then Mayor of the City, went to Harrisburg to persuade the General Assembly to change the four-mill tax from a State to a County tax. The answer to their petition was the above-mentioned Act of June 17, 1913, wherein for county purposes, and, in cities co-extensive with counties, for city and county purposes, a four mills tax is authorized upon the following:

"All mortgages, all moneys owing by solvent debtors, whether by promissory note, or penal or single bill, bond or judgment; all articles of agreement and accounts bearing interest; all public loans whatsoever, except those issued by this Commonwealth or the United States, and those made taxable for State purposes by section seventeen hereof; all loans issued by any corporation, association, company, or limited partnership, created or formed under the laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States, or of any other State or government, including ear-trust securities and loans secured by bonds or any other form of certificate or evidence of indebtedness, whether the interest be included in the principal of the obligation or payable by the terms thereof, except such loans as are made taxable for State purposes by section seventeen hereof; all shares of stock in any bank, corporation, association, company, or limited partnership, created or formed under the laws of this Commonwealth or of the United States, or of any other State or government, except shares of stock in any bank, corporation, or limited partnership that may be liable to a tax on its shares or its capital stock for State purposes under the laws of this Commonwealth, or relieved from the payment of tax on its shares or capital stock for State purposes by the laws of the Commonwealth, all moneys loaned or invested in other States, Territories, the District of Columbia, or foreign countries; all other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of the State; all stages, omnibuses, hacks, cabs, and other vehicles used in transporting passengers for hire, except steam- and street-passenger railway cars, owned, used, or possessed within this Commonwealth by any person or persons, or by any corporate body or bodies; all annuities yielding annually over two hundred dollars: Provided, That this section shall not apply to bank notes, or notes discounted or negotiated by any bank or banking institution, savings institution, or trust company; And Provided, That the provisions of this Act shall not apply to building and loan associations, or to savings institutions having no capital stock; but nothing any other local purpose or for State purposes under the laws of this Commonwealth."

To summarize then, we have, for present purposes of general taxation, all real estate, excluding, of course, the exempt classes mentioned, horses and cattle, salaries and emoluments of office, all offices and posts of profit, professions, trades and occupations, except the occupation of farmer; and for a four-mill tax, the classes of personal property set forth in the Act of 1913.

In bringing to a conclusion the first of my three topics, I have at this time no particular suggestions nor recommendations to make. I have simply endeavored in a feeble way to inform you, and through you the citizens of Philadelphia, what classes of property are subject to taxation now. In other words, the subjects upon which Councils, on or before December 1st, must levy a tax rate for the year 1917, so that in our discussions and deliberations attention may be properly focused and practical results quickly obtained.

The Act of March 24, 1868, P. L. 444, provides for the division of lands, for the purpose of taxation, into three classes, to wit, city, rural or suburban and farm. This legislative mandate has been followed. Horses and cattle have been assessed, as have the various classes of personal property included in the 1913 Act. But whatever the cause, whether due to lack of necessary legislative machinery to efficiently execute, or the general undesirability of such form of taxation, nowhere have I found a record of an occupation tax being levied or collected in Philadelphia. I have noted for you the abhorrence of the committees of 1865 and 1871 for this type of taxation. The Mayor's message of 1912, to which I have also referred, suggested it, but apparently the disturbance thereby created was not sufficiently thunderous to arouse it from the Rip Van Winkle slumber into which it entered the very year of its birth, to wit, 1844.

II. COUNCILMANIC PRIVILEGES AND LICENSES.

Under this caption I shall briefly refer to some of those subjects from which the City by Acts of Assembly obtains, or should obtain, additional present revenue, with or without Councilmanic action. As illustrating this class, we have the Act of May 20, 1913, P. L. 227, requiring a license to conduct, under certain circumstances, a business of selling damaged goods, goods of bankrupts or persons going out of business; the Act of May 20, 1913, P. L. 229, requiring licenses for places of amusement, dramatic, theatrical, operatic or vaudeville performances, circuses, menageries, museums or Wild West shows; the Act of July 2, 1895, P. L. 428, requiring licenses for public lodging houses; the Act of April 25, 1907, P. L. 106, requiring licenses for employment agencies; the Act of June 7, 1907, P. L. 441, requiring licenses for tenement houses; the Act of April 26, 1907, P. L. 123, requiring licenses for slaughter houses; the Act of May 24, 1887, P. L. 185, requiring licenses of transient retail dealers; the Act of May 24, 1887, P. L. 173, requiring licenses for conducting the business of a detective; the Act of June 3, 1915, P. L. 791, requiring licenses for dogs; the Act of April 15, 1891, P. L. 18, empowering Councils to fix the amount of license for wagons, carts, etc., used for the purpose of hawking, vending and peddling; and the enabling ordinance of Councils of April 11, 1893; the Act of February 23, 1870, requiring itinerant venders to be licensed. The income received, or which should be received, from those sources just mentioned, while insufficient as a substitute for any of the subjects enumerated in the scale of general taxation, do swell the total fund when persistently and energetically pursued.

III. SUGGESTIONS FOR ADDITIONAL LEGISLATION.

With this topic we leave the present and certain to browse in the pasture of hope and doubt. Many, if not all, of the suggestions and recommendations that I shall make for future legislative aid you have heard of before. Even though this be true, there seems to be no good reason why we should not actively re-enlist in support of them, so that Philadelphia may make herself heard and felt again in Harrisburg next year, demanding just, full and fair legislation. Forging to the front and demanding consideration, perhaps because it affects real estate, or due to the venerableness of its claim, is the agitation for a new system of real estate assessment. I think it but proper upon the threshold of my discussion of this important subject to state that whatever I may have to say in this connection is not offered as an affront to the present personnel of the Board of Revision of Taxes. What I have to say I would say regardless of who composed the Board. I say it because I think it is right. The objection is to the system. I recognize as neither democratic nor progressive a system which removes and sets up, as far almost as conceivable from the public will, a department of government that, next to life itself, deals with a citizen's dearest possession—his home. A system which, after receiving the funds necessary for its existence, is neither subject nor answerable directly to the people nor their elected representatives in the executive and legislative branches of the municipal government. I am not now advancing as a substitute for the present system any one of the known new and modern forms for assessing real estate, nor entering into a controversy with the present Board as to their relative merits. My sole purpose at this time is to state facts from which you may draw your own conclusions as to the necessity for a change. It is contended by some that a change will add no new revenue to the City, because, they say, if you raise the assessment in one direction you must lower it in another, and the sum total will therefore be about the same as now. I am not ready to say "Amen" to that contention, for I verily believe that a readjustment of assessments upon a proper basis will add much to the City's present revenue. But, after all, that is a secondary consideration. What we are striving for primarily is equalization of taxation, so to state the above contention is but to advance the most cogent reason for a change. If the burden of taxation falls equally upon every one, who can justly complain? But no man should be compelled to bear any part of his neighbor's municipal obligations. And this he is obliged to do when his property is overassessed while that of his neighbor is underassessed. If all real estate is properly, equitably and justly assessed, the tax rate, whatever it may be, descends equally upon all, the big as well as the little fellow, both stand equally upon the same common ground, and neither can complain. But, unfortunately, that is not the rule to-day, for it is common knowledge that many, many two- and three-story houses in all parts of our City are assessed up to their full value, and in many instances over, while real estate in the central and outlying districts is grossly under-assessed. This is neither fair nor legal, and I don't blame the fellow who is hurt for "kicking."

Let me note a few instances for your consideration, taken at random in different sections of our City, of record sales made, I am informed, within the last few months:

720 North Broad street, assessed at $10,500, sold for $25,000.

722 North Broad street, assessed at $13,000, sold for $29,000.

Building, southwest corner Broad and Melon streets, 80 x 87 feet, assessed at $50,000, sold about four months ago for $75,000; resold within a few weeks to present owner for $90,000.

Premises southeast corner Broad and Poplar streets, lot 24 x 60 feet, assessed at $12,000, sold recently for $18,500, as indicated by the amount of revenue stamps on the deed.

Factory and sheds, 2221-23-25 North American street, assessed at $8,000, recently sold at a price not disclosed, but subject to a mortgage of $11,500.

Factory, Richmond and Tioga streets, sold for $40,000, assessed at $28,000.

Plot of ground, 93 x 166 feet, on southeast side of Queen lane, west of Krail street, sold by Manayunk National Bank to Thomas F. Rafferty, a builder, for $13,000, assessed at $2,000.

Plot of ground, northeast corner Allegheny avenue and Collins street, 214 feet in frontage, sold for $20,000, assessed at $14,000.

Premises, 600 to 666 North Broad street, 80 x 182 feet, assessed at $92,000, sold recently for price reported to be about $170,000; building was conveyed subject to mortgages of about $145,000.

Stores, 2300-02-04 North Front street, assessed at $33,000, sold within four months for $59,500.

Factory, northeast corner Twenty-third and Turner streets, sold, as indicated by stamps on deed, for $126,000, assessed at $64,500.

Plot of ground, southeast corner Ridge avenue and Kingsley streets, assessed at $9,000, sold, as indicated by revenue stamps on deed, at $18,000.

Ground, at Eighty-third and Tinicum avenue, sold for price not disclosed, subject to a mortgage of $46,000, assessed at $30,000.

Residence of Frank G. McIlheny, on Lincoln drive, Germantown, sold to Oliver C. Pearson, stamps on deed indicated price of $40,000; was assessed at $17,000.

Store and dwelling, southwest corner Ninth and Carpenter streets, assessed at $8,500; stamps on deed indicate selling price to have been $14,000.

The old Y. M. C. A. building, at southeast corner Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, is assessed at $1,000,000; owner, I am reliably informed, will not take less than $2,000,000.

The Colonnade Hotel property, southwest corner Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, is assessed at $900,000, and it is common knowledge among real estate brokers, I am informed, that the owner wants $1,500,000 for it.

Lot, northwest corner Broad and Cherry streets, 137 x 180 feet, sold several months ago for $800,000; assessed at $665,000.

On unimproved ground held for high prices, many are the undervaluations. Hundreds of acres in Germantown owned by one large estate, assessed at acreage of from $3,000 to $5,000 an acre, residence sites sold from ground bring from $12,000 to $15,000 an acre and over.

The northeast corner Broad and Ruscomb streets, assessed at $7,000, has been sold since the passage of the loan bills for $15,000.

Ground, on Broad street below the Widener Home, assessed at $80,000, the owner has declined an offer of $120,000 for.

For the southeast corner Fifth and The Boulevard, assessed at $53,000, a bona fide offer of $100,000 has been made.

For the southeast corner of The Boulevard and C street, 13 acres, assessed at $47,000, the owner has declined an offer of $100,000.

The Boulevard and C street, assessed at $41,000; selling price asked, $100,000.

The Boulevard, east of Rising Sun avenue, assessed at $9,000; owner declined an offer of $17,000.

And so I might multiply the above illustrations if time, space and your patience would permit. Nor is this story of underassessments a new one. In 1903 an emphatic demand was made upon the Board of Revision of Taxes by the then Mayor for a more proper assessment, with a result that the assessments were corrected to an increase of 27 per cent. in one year. On January 20, 1913, the then Mayor of the City, in an address delivered to the Business Men's Associations of Philadelphia, gave thirty-two examples, taken from various wards in the City, where properties had been sold in excess of their assessed value. The total assessments in the examples cited were $1,073,650, whereas the selling prices actually paid for the properties so assessed when sold amounted to $1,996,750. The assessments were 54 per cent. short of the selling prices, and the effective tax rate was, therefore, about 81 cents instead of $1.50. Another remarkable illustration of our defective present system is also found in that same address of what happens to the City when it has to buy for its own purposes. In November, 1911, by ordinance, certain properties, embracing the west side of Sixteenth street, from No. 108 to Cherry street, and almost all of the south side of Cherry street, west to Seventeenth street, were placed upon the City plan. Prior to this Councilmanic action the total assessment of these properties was $154,900. Immediately after being placed upon the City plan the Board of Revision of Taxes jumped the total assessment to $245,500, or from 33 1/3 per cent. to 300 per cent., while they permitted the assessments of the properties on Cherry street, from Sixteenth street east to Fifteenth street, nearer to Broad street, to remain absolutely the same from 1911 to 1912. I need hardly take the time to cite cases of overassessment in Philadelphia. If I were to send out a twenty-four hour call for all realty owners to assemble at my office or at the City Hall who have sold or now hold properties assessed for more than they received, or is now offered for them, I wager a small-sized army would respond.

Under the present system, unknown elsewhere, neither the Mayor nor Councils have anything to do with it except provide the money for its existence. They have not even the power to investigate the Board of Revision of Taxes. The Supreme Court of our State, in the case of Selig vs. Philadelphia, 232 Pa. 309 (1911), declared that that was practically the effect of the Act of March 14, 1865, P. L. 320, and its supplements. By Acts of Assembly in all the second- and third-class cities of this State the entire assessing machinery is regulated by Councils. Personally, I cannot see why this all-important branch of our municipal life should continue to be kept so far removed from the personal touch of our citizens. Its control, regulation and maintenance should be placed at once in the hands of those who are directly responsible to the people, and upon whom they can call for an account of their stewardship.

The second- and third-class cities, by the aid of the Legislature, have made another advance in the solution of assessment problems; they have wiped out the threefold classification of real estate, to wit, built-up, suburban and rural or agricultural. And there seems to be no good reason why we should not ask the Legislature of 1917 to do the same for us.

One other suggestion commends itself to me as respects future legislative action upon real estate, and that is the demand for an Act that will take out of the exempt class and place in the taxable arena the real estate of quasi- public corporations, which, as I have heretofore explained at some length, are declared by judicial decision to be untaxable.

I think I have now exhausted the real estate vein, and will proceed to explore and develop new personal property claims. Although hardly personal estate, I consider the present-day ground rent, as respects money at interest, practically a mortgage. Under the Act of 1913, heretofore referred to, a four-mill tax is levied upon a mortgage, while no tax is levied upon the ground rent. Quick to notice this anomaly, real estate operative builders and others have created ground rents instead of mortgages, with a corresponding loss of income to the City. Taxation when levied upon the real estate, and upon the mortgage or ground rent secured thereon, is obnoxious as double taxation, but either one of two courses is just: either both the mortgage and ground rent ought to be taxed or the tax repealed on the mortgage.

I think former City Solicitor Ryan was right when, in 1915, he advocated an Act for the taxing of money at interest held by certain of the companies exempt by the personal property Act of 1913, and an Act relieving the City of the necessity of paying a tax to the State upon bonds issued by it. The passage of similar Acts in 1917 would net the City, in all probability, nearly $2,000,000 of additional revenue.

There are two forms of taxation, both local in their character, now collected by the State, which should by appropriate acts of Assembly be transferred to the respective counties, to wit, the present mercantile license tax and the collateral inheritance tax. The net income from both of these sources, while variable, is certain of collection, and would make a substantial addition to the City's present income.

Under and by virtue of the Act of 1844, the horse has been and is a subject of taxation. I see no reason why his legitimate successor, the automobile, should not likewise become a subject for local taxation, and to make it so would help to swell the grand total of additional revenue.

Probably under the old "welfare and comfort" Acts of 1789, 1790 and 1838, and if not by them, by a new and comprehensive Act, the City by ordinance could provide revenue by licensing or taxing a variety of subjects, such as shows and exhibits of various kinds, tunnels and vaults, signs, private bridgeways and many other special privileges extended by the City and from which it receives no return in revenue.

In connection with personal property taxes, if they are to prevail, then their assessment and collection should be earnestly and diligently pursued in a business-like way, and no one who is liable for these taxes should escape their payment. Unless this species of taxation is rigorously enforced it becomes a farce. There is to-day current an opinion that the collection of these personal taxes cannot be enforced; that while the returns of personal property may be voluntarily or involuntarily made, if the person taxed does not pay, there is no efficient machinery given to any one to sue or force payment. If such be the case, then proper and efficient machinery cannot be supplied too quickly.

I realize that I have not completely covered the almost interminable mass of taxable subjects, but I think I have struck the high spots, and I am anxious that you should have this product, imperfect as it is, as a help in the discussion that will ensue preparatory to fixing the tax rate of 1917. Being a real estate owner myself, I want to see a low tax rate, but I have taken my stand against a continuation of the iniquitous practice of long-term loans to pay for current needs. I neither want my children to pay for the bread I am now eating, nor do I want to prescribe for the other fellow medicine which I am not ready and willing to take myself.

Hoping this may be of the service intended, I am,

Sincerely yours,

A majority of the members elected having voted in the affirmative,

Mr. Gaffney offered the following:

In reference to the present ordinance, much has been said and much has been done. From October 5th, when the requests of the City and County Departments for their 1917 appropriations were introduced in Common Council, until to-day, the question of the needs for next year and the revenues to meet them has been so amply discussed that little can profitably be added at this time.

Since Thursday last, when the Finance Committee reported favorably the present ordinance, up until last night, I had received but a single protest against the bill, and that in the shape of a circular letter from a Committee of the North Philadelphia Real Estate Brokers' Association, a copy of which I assume every member of this Chamber received, and is therefore familiar with its contents. This morning I received a circular protest from the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, composed of brokers also.

While little of the former Association's complaint is new, I propose, with your permission, to answer it paragraph by paragraph, referring to each paragraph by its number, without repeating the language thereof.

1. I heartily agree with all that is said in reference to the Act of 1844 as being in full accord with my conclusions, set forth in my letter addressed to the Mayor and to Councils under date of October 24, 1916.

2. Nor have I any quarrel with the sentiments expressed in the second paragraph; they coincide with mine exactly, and I stand ready to fight for them just as hard as I have fought to put Philadelphia upon a sound financial basis.

3. The first rock upon which we split is the third paragraph of the letter, or, rather, that part of it which intimates that the landlords will get even by making their tenants the victims.

I stand here to-day as a landlord, but not as a real estate broker, like the great majority of other landlords; one who is not going to raise rents because of the proposed increased tax rate. In fact, every dollar I have invested is in real estate, but not for speculation. I don't hold, directly or indirectly, a share of stock, a bond, or any other form of security, nor am I in any way interested in any corporation; so that if I stand forth as the champion of any interest, it must be the land interest. Ordinarily, when an owner rents a house, particularly if it has been erected for some time, he exacts "all that the traffic will bear" before the imposition of the increased rate, and the fact that his tax burden has been increased does not empower him to exact more from the tenant, however great his desire or need to do so. Again, in all fairness, the landlord whose property is upon a ferrule charge for water and who can save by the installation of a meter must take that into consideration and set it off against the increased tax rate. In many instances an adjustment of this kind will mean that no additional burden is added to the property nor imposed upon the owner thereof. Moreover, I believe that the great body of our landlords are first good citizens and after that land owners; that they recognize as a business proposition that it is far better to pay a debt once and be done with it than to string it out for thirty years, paying it, as I will presently illustrate, almost twice over.

Of course, in every community you have the selfish and the avaricious, always seeking to find an excuse to exact from those subject to them, for their own private gain, not an exact return for outlays made, but to wring from their victims, no matter how improperly, an illegitimate profit. You find them in the land-owning class as well as in every other class, and it is to these undesirable citizens that I make a closing reference. In that class (I am happy to say, few in number) I put the landlord who, owning small dwellings occupied by poor, hard-working, but respected citizens, assessed at two thousand (2,000) dollars or three thousand (3,000) dollars, and upon which, under the new tax rate, he will pay an additional four (4) dollars or six (6) dollars a year, makes the increased tax rate a pretext to levy and collect an additional one (1) dollar per month from the tenant, making thereby an illegitimate and unwarranted profit of six (6) dollars to eight (8) dollars thereon. There can be no palliation for an individual of that type. In his possession are found ill-gotten gains, and for him I have the same distaste as for the coal baron who, without reason, in the dead chill of winter, raises the price of coal, or the ice and milk manipulators who, in the summer's heat, make the children and the poor pay to them their unnecessarily high tribute for those needs of life, the distribution and price of which they control. If I were the prosecutor of the County and could find the law to sustain me, I should reach out promptly and firmly grip the real estate grafter, with the other members of that nefarious fraternity.

4. This paragraph is like unto the third, and since no high-speed transit lines will be in operation in 1917 we need give ourselves little concern upon that point.

5. The fifth and concluding paragraph of the letter of protest presents the only alternative to the ordinance now before us. It is our old, old friend, "Borrow." The assertion that an increase in the rate is not in line with modern and up-to-date thought on the subject of taxation has, as far as I am able to learn, no authority to sustain it. If you turn to pages 678 and 679 of the World Almanac for 1916, you will find the tax rate for a number of cities. I select the following, all assessed upon one hundred (100) per cent. of the actual value of the real estate:

	RATE
Baltimore	$2 13
Boston	1 80
Detroit	2 36
Jersey City	2 11
Louisville	1 85
Newark	2 28
New York City	1 87
Paterson	2 04
Pittsburgh	3 14
Topeka	1 90
Worcester, Mass.	2 05

Chicago's tax rate upon a thirty-three and one-third ($33\frac{1}{3}$) per cent. assessment is \$5.25, while Philadelphia is listed as assessed at eighty-five (85) per cent.

The Committee in its protest, while admitting that the City is suffering from lack of tax income, from neglect to "pay as it goes," from annual deficits of from three to five millions, seeks to cure all these ills by another dose of dope—the loan. In other words, the eminent pathological gentlemen who compose the Committee would lull us by this old treatment into absolute happy forgetfulness of both our duty and our danger. They want us to continue to be addicted to that drug which, in the last eight (8) years, we have used to the extent of sixteen million three hundred and forty-nine thousand two hundred and three (16,349,203) dollars. Ah, but they say, "Take it for another year; the Legislature in the meantime will act, so don't place additional burdens upon the one class that has been bearing all the burdens." Can these good physicians be depended upon to look after us while we dream on for another year? On October 17, 1908, a permanent thirty (30) year loan of three million five hundred thousand (3,500,000) dollars to pay current expenses was authorized. In 1909 the Legislature met and adjourned, but no help came. In 1910 another permanent thirty (30) year loan of three million six hundred and fifty thousand (3,650,000) dollars for current expenses was authorized. The Legislature of 1911 met and adjourned, and we slumbered on. On May 9, 1912, another thirty (30) year permanent loan of four million two hundred and twenty-five thousand (4,225,000) dollars for expenses was authorized. Two Legislatures followed—1913 and 1915—and no help came to the poor, deluded victims. Where were our good doctor friends during all of these sessions of the Legislature? Instead of getting help we got hurt, in the nature of added burdens. What is the actual cost to the taxpayers of Philadelphia for this drug habit? The loans I have just mentioned aggregate eleven million three hundred and seventy-five thousand (11,375,000) dollars. In thirty years we will not only have to pay that amount, but in addition thereto, in sinking fund and interest charges, nine million one hundred thousand (9,100,000) dollars additional. Again in this very year we had to have another permanent loan of four million nine hundred and seventy-four thousand two hundred and three (4,974,203) dollars, for five years, to pay expense bills and patch out our current needs for 1916, which will cost, in addition to the principal, seven hundred and forty-five thousand nine hundred and thirty (745,930) dollars. Is such a system lifting, or is it putting a burden upon real estate taxpayers, and how can we be asked, sensibly and reasonably, to continue it?

The Philadelphia Real Estate Board, profiting by the universal condemnation of the Siamese Twins—"Loan and Borrow"—are more subtle in their protest. They offer exactly the same nostrum as their North Philadelphia broker friends, only they put a different label upon it—they call it "short weight." After cutting down the appropriations from forty-three million (43,000,000) dollars to thirty-five million (35,000,000) dollars, they recommend not only the illegal but the unwise course, giving it the polite name of "exercised economy," of refusing the Departments their full needs, with the result of forcing them to do business upon a donation basis, creating deficiencies which eventually must be taken care of by a loan.

Personally, you know where I stand. I recognize that both the Constitution and the law of this State demand, in spirit and letter, that we "pay as we go." I and every other member took a solemn oath, when admitted to this Chamber, to support, obey and defend the Constitution. What others have done in the past is not my sin, but I propose to be faithful to that obligation so taken. I shall not be a party to a practice which in the past has defied the Constitution and the Acts of Assembly, has concealed the real facts and covered up its misrepresentations by thirty (30) year permanent loans.

Nor am I a recent convert. On December 2, 1915, as a humble member of this Chamber, I protested, as the Journal of that day will show, against a continuation of this practice, and as I took my seat I urged my fellow-members to meet the issue of "live within your means" like men; increase the revenues so that they would meet and defray the current expenses. At that time I had no knowledge that I should be the next Chairman of the Finance Committee, but when that honor came, I determined to practice what I had preached.

Believing, as I do, that the tax rate is a business and economic, and not a political question, with the hearty approval of the Mayor I adopted the budget system, declaring that no tax rate should be determined upon until the needs of the City were ascertained, and then it should be honestly and fearlessly fixed to meet those needs. I know nothing, personally, of the practice of fixing the tax rate in the past, but this I do know, and do now assert, that no man nor set of men, either directly or indirectly, interfered with, attempted to interfere with or directed the shaping of this year's tax program, nor will they while I am Chairman of the Finance Committee. I stand here to-day to take no backward step. I want to do my duty by Philadelphia and its people. I want to help run the business of the City upon just as sound a basis as each individual citizen would conduct his own private business. I want to head Philadelphia toward the rising sun of progress and prosperity, and not in the direction of the setting sun of shame and bankruptcy. And I repeat, in doing this, no man nor set of men, however big or powerful, no threat of loss of votes or political death, will chill my courage to do my duty by my native City and my fellow-citizens. Such is my message to the people of Philadelphia.

JOSEPH P. GAFFNEY.

Mr. Burch offered the following:

I hereby file my reasons for voting in the negative on the pending ordinance.

1. Whilst I believe that Councils should enforce the Act of the Legislature commonly known as the "Pay As You Go Act," and should abandon the policy of borrowing money on long-term bonds to pay current running expenses, yet I believe that the increase of the tax rate to one (1) dollar and twenty-five (25) cents could be avoided if economy, efficiency and more businesslike methods were employed in the municipal government, and especially in the Departments known as "County Departments."

2. I believe that real estate assessments are levied and appraisements made with such inequality, and that the small home property is made to bear an unequal and disproportionate burden as compared with the business property or larger home property, and that if a modern system of appraisalment were employed by the City, the increased revenues would cause a tax increase to be unnecessary.

FRANCIS F. BURCH.

Mr. Gaffney moved to proceed to second reading of Common Council resolution (Appendix No. 226) entitled "Resolution of request to the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund to apply the surplus of excess appropriations

The Bureau of Surveys, under authority of ordinances of Councils, approved April 10, 1912, and December 29, 1913, has placed on the confirmed

APPENDIX No. 126.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

Philadelphia, September 21, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I return to you herewith, without my approval, Common Council Ordinance No. 79 entitled:

“An Ordinance to provide for the payment of the expense of paving certain streets and for parking, planting or other improvements.”

The Director of the Department of Public Works believes such an ordinance to be highly desirable and necessary for the best development of the City. The City Solicitor, however, expresses the opinion that “The ordinance in question radically changes the assessment of adjoining property owners for the cost of paving certain kinds of streets. Councils have the power to order streets paved and to pay therefor out of the City Treasury, but when it comes to assessing the whole or any part of this charge upon adjoining property owners it can only do so in the express manner provided by statute. Any departure therefrom invalidates the whole assessment, even if the change is for the benefit of the property owner. No existing statutes give Councils power to assess adjoining property in this ordinance.” He recommends “that this whole question should be referred to the Legislature and that the City should take no action that might jeopardize its assessment bills until after the passage of an Act of the Legislature giving Councils express power to change its present methods of assessing for such improvements.”

In view of this opinion, it seems advisable to withhold action on this subject until authority is secured from the Legislature to enable the City to provide in the manner contemplated by the ordinance for the expense of such improvements.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS B. SMITH,

Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR.

Philadelphia, October 5, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I am transmitting herewith to your Honorable Bodies an ordinance amendatory of an ordinance entitled:

“An Ordinance to authorize the Mayor to enter into and execute a contract or contracts for the erection of a Convention Hall, to be known as the Municipal Auditorium, on ground owned by the City on the Parkway, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second Streets, north of the Parkway; authorizing him to enter into and execute a contract with an architect to prepare plans and specifications therefor, and providing for the construction of same under the direction of the Department of Public Works,” approved the eighteenth day of February, 1916.

The original ordinance antedates the preparation and passage of this year's loan ordinances, and did not therefore contemplate nor include the additional sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) therein provided for the Convention Hall. I would therefore appreciate your prompt action upon this amendatory ordinance.

As I have a matter of great public interest which I desire to submit to your Honorable Bodies, at as early a date as possible, I also take this opportunity to respectfully request the holding of a stated meeting of both branches of Councils on Tuesday next, October 10.

Respectfully yours,

THOMAS B. SMITH,

Mayor.

The departments have estimated their requirements for 1917 at $63,514,284.03, of which $43,152,286.23 is for current expenses, fixed charges and payment of debt, and $20,361,997.80 for the acquisition of additional property and equipment. The estimate for current expenses includes $400,000 and the estimate for permanent improvements $800,000 for mandamuses.

It would require a tax rate of \$1.63 $\frac{3}{4}$ per \$100 of valuation of taxable property, together with the estimated receipts from the personal property tax and miscellaneous sources, to produce an amount sufficient to give the departments and bureaus everything asked for current expenses, fixed charges and payment of debt, all of which are lawful obligations and must be paid out of current taxation and miscellaneous current revenues in accordance with the "Pay-As-You-Go" Act of June 11, 1879. Such a rate would be impossible, and I have, therefore, prepared calculations that show the amount available at \$1.20, at \$1.35 and at \$1.50 per \$100 of valuation of taxable property in addition to the calculation showing the amount available at the present tax rate of \$1 per \$100 (see page 364). Any of these higher rates will add materially to the funds available for appropriation.

The estimated requirements for the additional property and equipment will have to be ignored for the reason that at present the borrowing capacity is practically exhausted. By February 1, 1917, there will be additional borrowing capacity, at which time some of these projects can be provided for if your Honorable Bodies see fit.

AMOUNT AVAILABLE FOR DEPARTMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS—GENERAL FUND	<hr/>
	$ 20 464 581 44

The gross amount available for appropriation for the year 1917, at the tax rate of $1 per $100, after deducting lawful allowances for average uncollected and adding estimated receipts from the personal property tax and the average miscellaneous general account receipts for the preceding five years, is $32,353,357.32, which is an increase of $526,268.61 over the estimated receipts, $31,827,088.71, for 1916. Deducting the lawful obligations, which amount to $11,888,775.88, leaves a net balance for departmental appropriation of $20,464,581.44, or a decrease of $1,756,849.39, under the funds available for appropriation for departmental purposes for 1916. This large decrease in funds available for departmental appropriation is entirely due to the unusual increase in lawful obligations, the principal part of which increase has been caused by the current expense deficiency loan of $4,974,203, of June 29, 1916, being made payable in five years instead of in thirty years, the customary life of city loans. The annual sinking fund and interest charges upon this five-year loan amount to $1,117,955.91, whereas on a thirty-year loan they would be only $294,008.82. The remainder of the increase in the lawful obligations arises from the unusually large amount of loans sold and to be sold in 1916, $17,860,000, whereas the average for the five preceding years was but $6,478,250. The lawful obligations for next year also include provision for the issue of $25,599,200 of new loans in 1917, which new loans will be absolutely required if the estimates of expenditures under loan funds appropriations (see page 386) are adhered to.

The estimate of the board of revision of taxes of the assessed valuation of real estate for 1917 shows an increase of $36,438,200 over its estimate of a year ago, and the estimate of the assessed valuation of personal property (money at interest, horses and cattle and carriages to hire) shows an increase of $49,880,000 over that of the preceding year, which increases account for a large part of the above increase in the general fund estimated receipts for 1917. The five-year average of miscellaneous receipts produces an increase in the 1917 estimate of $117,673.28.

The general funds now available for appropriation for 1917 may be increased at the closing of the year's books at December 31, 1916, by any merging balance of general fund appropriations and by any excess of general account receipts over the city controller's estimated receipts for 1916. The actual receipts in the first nine months of 1916 show an increase of $922,128.29, when compared with those of the same period of 1915, leaving $3,424,824.67, or 10.8 per cent. of the estimate to be collected in the remaining three months of this year, whereas $3,995,312.89, or 12.7 per cent., remained to be collected in the same period of a year ago. I have estimated that the actual receipts to be collected during the remaining quarter of this year will exceed my estimate by $960,000.00. Adding to these excess receipts the estimated merging balances at the close of this year produces an estimated fund surplus of $1,410,000.00 (see page 366.)

If this estimated surplus is realized, your Honorable Bodies should be in a much more comfortable position financially at the beginning of 1917 than you were in January, 1916. The city controller's estimate for 1917, together with the estimated surplus, will, if the latter is realized, give a total of $33,763,357.32 of current funds available at the beginning of 1917, whereas the similar amount available at the beginning of 1916 was $31,970,592.56, out of which latter amount $1,200,000 had to be paid for the temporary loan incurred just before the close of 1915, and $14,400 for interest thereon.

LOAN FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR 1916

At January 1, 1916, there were unexpended balances of loan fund appropriations amounting to $23,721,492.97 and $1,402,685.36 of funds available for appropriation. Of the latter, $1,400,000 was an unappropriated balance of the $11,300,000 (1915) loan and $2,685.36 was made up of sundry merging balances of loan fund appropriations under $500, as authorized by Ordinance of Councils of June 17, 1914 (see city controller's 1915 annual report, page 7).

The $42,450,797 general improvement loan, the $4,974,203 current expense and deficiency loan, and the $67,100,000 transit loan, all of which received an affirmative vote of the people at an election held May 16, 1916, were finally authorized by City Councils on June 29, 1916. These loans and the loan funds available mentioned above have since been appropriated by your Honorable Bodies with the exception of $800,909.73. The $4,974,203 loan, though unnegotiated, has been placed upon the appropriation ledgers in accordance with the Consolidated Loan Act of June 5, 1915, but, owing to the other two loans aggregating over $100,000,000, it was thought advisable not to place them upon the appropriation ledgers until a portion of each was sold and the proceeds in the treasury to meet payments thereunder. Accordingly, $7,500,000 of the $42,450,797 loan and $2,500,000 of the $67,100,000 loan will be offered for sale in October. Bids will be opened October 31 and the loans will be dated November 1, 1916.

Sufficient funds were provided in the $42,450,797 loan to pay all the liabilities of the city for various authorized improvements totaling $29,636,797, as required by decision of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in Schuldice vs. Pittsburgh (251 Pa. 28).

The $67,100,000 loan is for fifty years, whereas all previous loans of the city have never been for a greater period than thirty years, which was the limit placed upon loans by the State Constitution prior to the amendment thereto adopted by vote of the people November 2, 1915. The sinking fund and interest charges on the $67,100,000 loan will be paid out of the proceeds of the loan during construction of the transit and port facilities and for the first year of operation. It will be necessary for the city controller to obtain estimates from the director of the department of public works and the director of the department of wharves, docks and ferries as to the length of time required for construction in order that he may set aside an adequate amount from the various portions of this loan as each is sold.

The borrowing capacity of the city for transit and port facilities September 30, 1916, is $2,998,004.46.

The borrowing capacity for other permanent improvements and for general purposes is practically exhausted.

ESTIMATE OF LOAN FUNDS AVAILABLE FOR 1917

In addition to such balances of loan funds available during the remainder of 1916 as shall be unexpended at the close of the year, and thus available for 1917, it is estimated that the increase in the actual assessed valuation of taxable property, together with payments of debt and increase in the investment of the sinking fund in city loans, will make a further amount of $14,916,275.56 available for loan authorization and appropriation in 1917 requiring vote of the people.

Of this estimated additional borrowing capacity for 1917 it is estimated that $6,248,206.02 will be available solely for transit and port facilities and that the remainder will be available for general purposes and for permanent improvements.

A proposed amendment to Section 8 of Article IX of the State Constitution, which was passed by the Legislature in 1915, and must be passed again by that body in 1917, and receive an affirmative vote of the people at the November, 1917, election before it becomes a part of the Constitution, will, if adopted, remove the restriction contained in the Constitutional Amendment adopted by vote of the people on November 2, 1915, viz., that the additional 3 per cent. borrowing capacity may only be used for transit facilities, etc., and makes the borrowing capacity of the city of Philadelphia 10 per cent. of the assessed valuation of taxable property without restriction as to the purpose for which it can be used, except that contained in the Act of July 21, 1913, P. L. 868, which made the assessed valuation of taxable personal property available as a basis only for loans for permanent improvements.

This proposed amendment for 1917 removes another restriction, namely: that in incurring indebtedness for any purpose the city of Philadelphia may issue its obligations maturing not later than fifty years. The 1915 constitutional amendment authorized a fifty-year life for loans for transit and port facilities, but the thirty-year provision of the Constitution still governs other classes of loans. The 1917 amendment will completely remove the thirty-year restriction and permit all loans, no matter for what purpose, to have a life of fifty years, thereby reducing the carrying charges for sinking fund and interest from 6 per cent. to less than 5 per cent.

THE CITY'S FINANCIAL CONDITION

From January 1, 1901, to date the net expenditure of current revenue for permanent improvements and the net expenditure of loan moneys for current expenses, together with the tax rate in each of these years, follows:

Totals	$ 31 722 267 76	$ 5 010 615 09

The reduction in tax rate in 1904 was accompanied by a large increase in assessed valuations, resulting in considerably larger revenues at the new rate of $1.50 per $100 of valuation than at the old rate of $1.85, as follows:

Year	Tax Rate	Assessed Valuation	Receipts from Current Taxes
1903	$ 1 85	$ 941 895 710 00	$ 15 694 438 82
1904	1 50	1 215 750 635 00	16 351 103 94

The above table shows very clearly that there was no shortage of revenue prior to 1912, but that in the eleven years from 1901 to 1911, inclusive, there was $31,722,267.76 of current tax moneys used for permanent improvements. A considerable portion of this money was paid out in satisfaction of mandamuses for the acquisition of property for parks, boulevards and other purposes, and for various improvements of a permanent nature, such as opening and widening streets, change of grade and construction of sewers. Prior to 1912 the city treasury was in such an excellent condition that it was possible to pay all mandamuses, whether for permanent improvements or for damages or other current expenses, out of ordinary revenues. In addition, all the ordinary running expenses of the city government were paid out of current funds and a balance remained for permanent improvements. Since the beginning of 1912 to September 30, 1916, there has been a net expenditure of loan moneys for current expenses of $5,010,615.09.

A temporary loan of $1,200,000 was resorted to in 1911 and had to be paid in 1912, together with deficiency bills of $790,546.17, making a total of $1,990,546.17 of floating debt carried over from 1911 that had to be paid in 1912. There was, however, a fund surplus at the close of 1911 of $2,040,427.81, which was sufficient to pay the above-mentioned floating debt and leave a balance of $49,881.64 for use in 1912 over and above all of the floating indebtedness of 1911. The city, therefore, commenced operating in 1912 without a penny of floating debt that was not covered by current funds available to pay same at the close of 1911. I emphasize this condition because 1912 is the first year in which there was a net use of loan moneys for current expenses. This use of loan moneys continued during 1913, 1914 and 1915. The average annual increase in current receipts available for appropriation in the years from 1912 to 1915, inclusive, was $662,879.88, whereas the average annual increase in expenditures chargeable thereto, including current expenses, fixed charges and payment of debt, was $1,165,289.06.

At the close of 1915 the temporary loan of $1,200,000, the deficiency bills and outstanding mandamuses exceeded the fund surplus by $1,225,630.70, which is a decided contrast with the current financial condition of the city at the close of 1911, as indicated above.

There should be no mystery in the mind of any one as to the causes for this very unfavorable change in the financial condition of the city. They are as follows:

(1) On January 1, 1912, the Board of Public Education became a separate corporate body (The School District of Philadelphia) with a tax rate of $0.50 per $100 of valuation, and the city tax rate at the same time was made $1 per $100 of valuation. Thus, the combined rate—$1.50—was the same that had obtained since 1904, but, nevertheless, the separation of the Board of Education from the other city and county functions gave the former $821,400.36 more of revenue in 1912 than it enjoyed in 1911, and to that extent reduced the revenue available for the other functions of the city and county government. I have commented at length upon this subject in annual reports and budget statements (annual reports of 1912, page 9; 1913, page 17; 1914, page 11; and 1915, page 12, and budget statement for 1916, page 12).

(2) The city since 1911 has undertaken a number of new functions and activities and has expanded many of its older functions and activities at a rate much more rapid than the increase in its revenues from taxes and other current sources. I am taking no issue with the merit or wisdom of this course. I am merely recording what took place. These enlarged activities were more moderate in their demands in 1912, 1913 and 1914, as may be observed from the fact that we had in these years an average annual operating deficit of $1,140,525.26. But in 1915 they broke all bounds and resulted in an excess of current expenditures over current revenues of $2,574,125.06.

Considering the increase in expenditures from the standpoint of objects, $14,909,137.21 was paid for personal services in 1915, which was an increase of $2,293,059.62 over the similar expenditures in 1911—an increase of 18 per cent. The following table compares the several objects of expenditure of 1915 with 1911, as well as various sources of revenue:

The rapid increase in current expenses in 1915 is reflected in the difficulty that attended the current financing of the city during 1916. At the close of 1915 the temporary loan of $1,200,000, together with the deficiency bills and outstanding mandamuses, exceeded the fund surplus by $1,225,630.70, whereas at the close of 1911 the fund surplus available for appropriation exceeded the temporary loan and deficiency bills, by $49,881.64. There was no corresponding increase in current revenues in 1915 to meet the large increase in current expenditures. They were met by resorting to a temporary loan which had to be paid in 1916, and, in addition, there was practically no fund surplus.

The following table comparing the current funds available in 1915 with those in 1916 shows a decrease in the latter year of $3,500,000:

These unfavorable financial conditions which have existed since 1912, and which have been fully set forth in my annual reports and budget statements to your Honorable Bodies, emphasize the fact that the time has arrived when the problem of equalization of taxation must be met and solved in an intelligent, dispassionate and scientific manner by obtaining other objects of taxation than real estate and thereby obviating the placing of the whole burden of providing additional revenue permanently upon the latter.

The former administration attempted to obtain additional revenue by enumerating innumerable objects of taxation, a large number of which were utterly impossible of accomplishment (which recommendations were recently again revived and transmitted for action to the Finance Committee). Almost all the objects suggested require the action of the State Legislature and the relinquishment of a portion of revenue that now goes into the State Treasury.

In my judgment, after a practical experience of thirty years in the municipal government of this city, any effort to obtain such legislation is a waste of time and energy, with possibly one or two exceptions, as it has been recently shown by State officials that the Commonwealth requires all the income it can obtain under its present system of taxation, and the demands made upon it, like our own, are constantly increasing.

In the solution of the problem of an equitable increase in taxation above suggested, to save time which is absolutely essential, decide upon objects that are feasible, definite and practicable; for instance, take the total average annual income of the city and county from fees, licenses, permits, fines and other miscellaneous sources, a large percentage of which is based upon legislation enacted many years ago, and which in this progressive age is quite or almost obsolete. The present scale of charges for this class of income should be increased fifty (50) to one hundred (100) per cent. for all departments. Detailed schedules showing the great multiplicity of receipts of this class and the many departments in which they occur, are to be found in the city controller's annual report for 1915, pages 61 to 74. Your action in making said increases would be sustained by the increased expenses involved in conducting the business of the different city and county offices.

Vaults

Permits to construct vaults yield a mere pittance in proportion to the powers conferred mostly to corporations and companies of large capital and surplus without the payment of any cash value or consideration to use almost in perpetuity land belonging to the city acquired by the tax payers' money. This valuable privilege should be revised and regulated by your Honorable Bodies by the payment of an annual rental upon each and every square foot of ground used beyond the building line based upon the assessed valuation of the land upon which the building is erected. This revision would add largely to the income paid into the city treasury through the bureau of highways.

State Tax on Loans

The annual state tax on loans, amounting in 1915 to $266,055.39, should be remitted by the State. The large increase in loans authorized and to be expended during the next five years for permanent improvements will increase annually the sinking fund and interest charges by approximately $1,500,000. Many millions of the loans authorized will be spent by the department of wharves, docks and ferries in the enlargement and betterment of port and harbor facilities, in which State pride should enter to the extent of remitting the above-mentioned tax and thereby contributing annually to this contemplated City and State improvement.

The above legislation and that pertaining to certain fee bills of the county officers (prothonotary, sheriff, etc.) is all that will require the action of the State Legislature. All other changes suggested, and many more which could be made that would result in increased revenues to the city treasury from miscellaneous sources other than taxes can be enacted by your Honorable Bodies.

If councilmanic legislation can be enacted before the end of the year upon the recommendations above made for increased revenue, it is fair to estimate an additional income of $1,250,000, which, together with the anticipated surplus of actual over estimated receipts and merging balances amounting to $1,410,000, and the increase of $526,268.61 in the estimated receipts for 1917, as well as a further increase of water receipts now pending before Councils of $400,000, makes a total net increase in current revenue for 1917 of $3,586,000, equivalent to an increase in the tax rate of approximately twenty (20) cents.

The above amounts, together with additional revenue, such as state tax on city loans, etc., which, if it can be obtained through the Legislature of 1917, should be sufficient to provide for the present deficiencies in current revenue.

If legislation cannot be effected to obtain sufficient revenue to meet expenditures for 1917 without resorting to additional taxation upon real estate, it should be done only after exhausting all other avenues for objects of taxation. I, therefore, respectfully and earnestly urge that whatever action is taken in reference to additional income from real estate shall be understood to be of a temporary character until relief can be obtained in other directions, and that said relief shall be effected, if possible, before business and financial reverses occur, that the small taxpayer, who is acquiring his house through annual payments to building and loan associations, the number of members of which (I am reliably informed) exceeds 300,000, may not be called upon to again make sacrifices such as prevailed in the years 1913 and 1914 to retain what equity they had acquired in their properties.

The present tax rate has been a great incentive to skilled and unskilled labor to acquire their homes, and every such acquisition contributes largely to the mental, physical and moral uplift and the cultivation of a civic pride, the value of which to the city is beyond estimation.

ADDITIONAL APPROPRIATION REQUIRED FOR INTEREST ON NEW LOANS IN 1916

Your Honorable Bodies are advised that there is a shortage in the present balance of appropriation item 4-c of the annual appropriation to the department of city treasurer for interest on new loans of $125-550.63. It is imperative that an additional appropriation or transfer of this amount be made to this appropriation item out of general funds before the close of the current year. The balance in appropriation item 4-c, department of city treasurer, for sinking fund on new loans, is $25-937.78 in excess of requirements, and this amount is, therefore, available for transfer. A table, showing the condition of these two appropriation items, follows:

FUNDED DEBT

The funded debt of the city on January 1, 1916, was $120,666,450. This indebtedness has been increased during the first nine months of 1916 by the issue in January of $1,000,000 of the $13,500,000 (1907) loan, $700,000 of the $7,000,000 (1913) loan, $660,000 of the $3,160,000 (1914) loan and $3,000,000 of the $11,300,000 (1915) loan; also the issue in July of $2,000,000 of the $4,325,000 (1915) loan and $3,000,000 of the $6,000,000 (1915) loan. The city's debt has been reduced by the payment of $3,000 of the unclaimed matured loans, leaving the funded debt on September 30, 1916, $131,023,450. The city loans held by the commissioners of the sinking fund on January 1 amounted to $22,265,400 of long term loans and $1,200,000 of temporary loan. Since that date $2,074,400 has been added to the holdings in long term loans and the temporary loan has been paid off, leaving the investments in city loans September 30, 1916, $24,339,800 represented entirely by long term loans. The net funded debt of the city on September 30, 1916, was $106,683,650.

LOANS AUTHORIZED AND UNISSUED

At January 1 there were loans authorized and unissued amounting to $21,710,000. On June 29th, there were authorized the following loans:

- $42,450,797 (1916) 30-year loan for general improvements.
- 4,974,203 (1916) 5-year loan for current expenses.
- 67,100,000 (1916) 50-year loan for transit and port facilities.

In January there was issued $5,360,000 and in July $5,000,000 of the loans authorized and unissued as described above. These transactions leave a balance of loans authorized and unissued on September 30, as follows:

$ 11 300 000	Loan of January 7, 1915.....	$ 5 300 000
4 325 000	Loan of May 6, 1915.....	2 325 000

67 100 000	Loan of June 29, 1916.....	67 100 000
Total		$ 125 150 000

These unsold loans and portions of loans have all been appropriated with the exception of the following amounts:

$ 11 300 000 (1915) Loan.....	$ 788 000 00

CITY LOANS EXEMPT FROM UNITED STATES INCOME TAX

The market for this city's bonds has been excellent during the first nine months of 1916. Substantial premiums were obtained on the loans sold in January and those sold in July. The new revenue act very recently passed by Congress, which increased the annual income tax from one to two per cent. and practically doubled the surtax, has added to the attractiveness of municipal bonds owing to their being completely exempt therefrom.

MUNICIPAL PENSION FUND

The cash balance of the municipal pension fund at September 30, 1916, amounted to $177,009.51. Of this amount, $175,333.10 has been contributed by officials and employees and $1,676.41 represents interest on deposits. It is estimated that the cash balance in the fund will amount to approximately $205,000 at December 31, 1916, and the opinion of the Board of Pensions is that this balance, together with the current receipts from contributions in 1917, will be considerably in excess of pension payments during the coming year. While it is known that a number of employees are contemplating application for pension, it is believed that the payments on account of pensions in 1917 will be far less than maximum for the reason that retirement is entirely voluntary, and as the pension payment amounts to but fifty (50) per cent. of the average salary of the last five years of service, any employees who have received a promotion or increase in salary during the last five years would not receive even fifty (50) per cent. of their present salary. It is believed that many who are eligible will prefer to remain in active service and receive full pay.

Withdrawals of contributions from the pension fund by those who have left the city or county service are requiring larger payments each month as the fund becomes older.

Mandamuses Payable

Mandamuses amounting to $2,571,429.55 were outstanding unpaid at September 30, 1916, $214,182.00 being of a current expense nature and $2,357,247.55 being for permanent improvements. Sufficient funds to pay these mandamuses have been provided by your Honorable Bodies in the $42,450,797 loan authorized June 29, 1916. In addition to a general mandamus item of $300,000 in this loan there is an appropriation to the department of law of $4,925,901 to pay damages for the heretofore authorized opening, widening and changing of grade of streets, construction of sewers and condemnation of property for parks and other purposes; and an appropriation to the department of city treasurer of $8,500,000 for the acquisition and payment for property taken for the parkway. As these amounts have been specifically appropriated, it will be necessary for a warrant to be drawn for each mandamus, which method of payment is preferable to the payment of mandamuses out of unappropriated funds, at least so far as loan moneys are concerned.

There has been included in the estimated requirements for 1917, $1,200,000 for mandamuses of a general nature, of which it is estimated that $400,000 will be for current expenses and should be paid out of general funds, whereas $800,000 is estimated to be for permanent improvements and might properly be provided for in the next loan that is authorized.

This estimate of $1,200,000 is conservative, and it is imperative that at least that amount shall be provided in addition to the funds now available in the $42,450,797 loan or provision will have to be made therefor out of the fund surplus at the close of 1916.

RECOMMENDED FORM OF APPROPRIATION ORDINANCES

I take pleasure in submitting, herewith, for the consideration of your Honorable Bodies the "Departmental Budget Estimates of 1917 Requirements," accompanied by salary schedules supporting the line reading "Personal Services." In addition to the 1917 requirements, these departmental estimates show in the most concise manner the

Expenditures in 1915;

Appropriations available for the year 1916 to September 1;

The actual expenditures in 1916 to September 1;

The estimated expenditures for the four remaining months of 1916;

classified as to whether "general," "loan" or "special" moneys were used. The net increases or decreases of the 1917 requirements compared with the 1916 expenditures are also given.

These estimates show the total amount asked for 1917 by each department or bureau classified by objects of expenditure, by characters of expenditure, and by functions or activities.

If used as the basis for appropriation ordinances, these classified estimates would greatly simplify and condense the work for all concerned, and at the same time would permit of strict supervision by your Honorable Bodies over the expenditures by all departments and bureaus, making comparisons by objects of expenditure very easy. For example, the appropriation ordinances could be made uniform for every department and bureau in accordance with the recapitulation by "objects of expenditure" submitted by it, and would show amounts appropriated, as follows:

- | | | |
|------|-----|------------------------------------------------------|
| Item | 1. | Personal Services (with supporting salary schedule). |
| " | 2. | Services Other Than Personal. |
| " | 3. | Materials. |
| " | 4. | Supplies. |
| " | 5. | Equipment. |
| " | 6. | Structures and Non-Structural Improvements to Land. |
| " | 7. | Land and Interest in Land. |
| " | 8. | Debt Payments. |
| " | 9. | Interest and State Tax on Debt. |
| " | 10. | Rentals, Contributions and Pensions. |

Additional appropriations during the year could then be made to any one of the above items of any department or bureau.

The recapitulations of the above-mentioned departmental estimates for the whole city and county begin on page 65. The recapitulations for each department, bureau and office begin on page 120, and the salary schedules begin on page 226.

In the first few pages of this statement, the essential facts are brought together in such form as to enable City Councils and the public to obtain the meaning of the mass of figures sent in by the departments as their estimates of requirements for 1917.

Yours very truly,

JOHN M. WALTON,
City Controller.

RESOLUTION

To appoint a Joint Committee of five members to investigate how the Police Beneficiary Association is identified with the Pension Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh.

WHEREAS, It has come to my attention that several thousand members of the Philadelphia Police Force, who are members of the Police Beneficiary Association, are insured through that organization with the Pension Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh;

AND WHEREAS, It has been reported that this Insurance Company is faced with a capital impairment of more than one million (1,000,000) dollars;

AND WHEREAS, I have been informed that none of the policemen insured through the Police Beneficiary Association themselves pay premiums to the Pension Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, but that the premiums are being paid by some unidentified "philanthropist,"

AND WHEREAS, I learn that policies are issued on these policemen without their having to undergo the usual formality of a physical examination; therefore,

Resolved, By the Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia, That a Joint Committee of five members, three from Select Council and two from Common Council, be appointed to investigate just how the Police Beneficiary Association is identified with the Pension Mutual Life Insurance Company of Pittsburgh, who pays these premiums on the lives of policemen who don't pay, and who gets the money when one of them dies; in other words, to find out who is making money out of the deaths of Philadelphia's policemen.

APPENDIX No. 230.

DEPARTMENT OF CITY CONTROLLER.

Philadelphia, November 29, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—I am informed that your Honorable Bodies have made no provision in the annual appropriation ordinance for 1917 to the Department of City Treasurer for sinking fund on loans to be sold during 1917, for which purpose the City Treasurer requested $1,166,658.25, in accordance with the Sinking Fund Commission's certificate of the amount required based upon the estimates of the various Departments and Bureaus of expenditures made and to be made by them. I am in receipt of an opinion of the City Solicitor that where authorized loans are "appropriated or used or spent" it is equivalent to an issue or increase of indebtedness, and the sinking fund provision therefor must be made in the following year. All the loans included in the calculation of $1,166,658.25 (above referred to) have been appropriated, and to date considerable portions have been spent out of other loan moneys (by authority of Consolidated Loan Act of 1915) for account of these loans and still further portions thereof are under contract. The fact that they have been appropriated in 1916 requires, by the terms of the City Solicitor's letter, that sinking funds be provided in 1917 for them. I, therefore, desire to bring this matter to your attention, that you may take action in conformity with above opinion.

The above amount required in 1917 for sinking fund on new loans is four or five times the usual amount; the reason being that your Honorable Bodies made the $4,974,203 loan of June 29, 1916, a five year loan, whereas all other loans have been thirty year loans. This loan has at present a large debtor balance to the Consolidated Loan Fund, and as it is for payment of deficiency bills for supplies furnished in the year 1915, and current maintenance of various Departments and Bureaus for 1916. including large appropriations for salaries and wages of police, fire and other employees, practically all of it will be spent by the close of 1916. As shown in my Budget Statement of October 2, 1916 (page 5), "the annual sinking fund and interest charges, upon this five year loan amount to $1,117,955.91, whereas, on a thirty year loan they would be only $294,008.82." The sinking fund requirements, exclusive of interest, on a five year loan are 19 per cent. and on a thirty year loan are less than 2 per cent. annually. The annual sinking fund requirements of a five year loan, exclusive of interest, therefore, are ten times those of a thirty year loan.

I desire to further call your attention to the City Solicitor's opinion to the Sinking Fund Commission dated November 22, 1916, relative to the desire of City Councils to use a portion of the sinking fund reserve for general fund purposes. This opinion states that it "is within the discretionary powers vested in the Sinking Fund Commission, and it is not within the power of Councils to require the diversion of this fund for the purpose of meeting the annual exigencies of the City government, or for any other purpose, unless the judgment of the Sinking Fund Commissioners shall coincide in the wisdom and safety of such a policy, either in whole or in part. With this qualification, and insofar as such a resolution of Councils, if one shall be passed by them, may secure the approval of yourselves as to the proposed use of all or of a portion of the surplus, I would say that in my opinion it would not be unlawful for you to consent thereto. But it must be understood that no such measure can be carried into effect without your consent." If your Honorable Bodies pass a resolution relative to the surplus reserve of the sinking fund as above referred to, it can be brought before the Sinking Fund Commission at their meeting on Monday next for consideration.

Very truly yours,

JNO. M. WALTON,
City Controller.

APPENDIX No. 252.

Philadelphia, December 7, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—We, your Committee on Surveys, to whom was referred the bill entitled "An Ordinance to authorize the revision of the lines and grades of Forty-ninth street, from Paschall avenue to the Chester Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and of Grays avenue, from Forty-ninth to Fifty-second street," respectfully report that we have carefully considered the same. It is proposed to construct a new bridge over the P., W. and B. Railroad on Forty-ninth street between Paschall avenue and Gray's avenue. The grades leading up to the present bridge from the south are nearly 7 per cent. This bridge will be an outlet for a very large territory in the southwestern section of West Philadelphia and it is advisable to make the grades on the approaches as easy as possible and to widen the street at this point in order to take care of the increased traffic. The revision may cost twenty thousand (20,000) dollars. We therefore return the annexed bill with a favorable recommendation and ask its passage.

AN ORDINANCE

To authorize the revision of the lines and grades of Forty-ninth street, from Paschall avenue to the Chester Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and of Gray's avenue, from Forty-ninth to Fifty-second street.

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That the Department of Public Works (Board of Surveyors), be authorized to revise the lines and grades of Forty-ninth street, from Paschall avenue to the Chester Branch of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway and of Gray's avenue, from Forty-ninth to Fifty-second street.

APPENDIX No. 253.

Philadelphia, December 7, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—We, your Committee on Surveys, to whom was referred the bill entitled “An Ordinance to authorize the revision of the lines and grades of Linden avenue, from Edmund street to State road, of Keystone street and James street, from Linden avenue to Arendell avenue, of Tulip street, from Carwithan avenue to Arendell avenue and of State road, from Pennypack street to Convent avenue and to make the necessary revision of the lines and grades of intersecting streets,” respectfully report that we have carefully considered the same. This revision is necessary in order that we may lose no time in constructing the bridge on the line of Linden avenue over the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad. It is also necessitated by the requirement of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania for a minimum headway of twenty-two feet, while the grades in this territory, which have been confirmed for a number of years, were based on the headroom of twenty feet. We therefore return the annexed bill with a favorable recommendation and ask its passage.

AN ORDINANCE

To authorize the revision of the lines and grades of Linden avenue, from Edmund street to State road, of Keystone street and James street, from Linden avenue to Arendell avenue, of Tulip street, from Carwithan avenue to Arendell avenue, and of State road, from Penny-pack street to Convent avenue; and to make the necessary revision of the lines and grades of intersecting streets.

SECTION 1. The Select and Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia do ordain, That the Department of Public Works (Board of Surveyors), is hereby authorized and directed to revise the lines and grades of Linden avenue, from Edmund street to State road, of Keystone street and James street, from Linden avenue to Arendell avenue, of Tulip street, from Carwithan avenue to Arendell avenue, and of State road, from Pennypack street to Convent avenue; and to make the necessary revision of the lines and grades of intersecting streets, for the purpose of providing sufficient underclearance for a bridge on line of Linden avenue over the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad.

APPENDIX No. 254.

Philadelphia, December 7, 1916.

To the Presidents and Members of the Select and
Common Councils of the City of Philadelphia.

GENTLEMEN:—We, your Committee on Surveys, to whom was referred the bill entitled “An Ordinance to authorize the revision of the lines and grades of Ashburner street, from Torresdale avenue to State road, of Hegerman street and Tulip street, from Solly street to Hoffnagle street and of State road, from Holmesburg avenue to Pennypack street; and to make the necessary revision of the lines and grades of intersecting streets.” respectfully report that we have carefully considered the same. This revision is necessary for the purpose of providing sufficient underclearance for a bridge on line of Ashburner street over the Philadelphia and Trenton Railroad and it is also made necessary by the requirement of the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania for a minimum headroom of twenty-two feet, the Railroad Company requiring twenty-three feet clearance if road is electrified. We therefore return the annexed bill with a favorable recommendation and ask its passage.

Charles F. Kelley (Ch'n), Wm. J. Harrington, Daniel Cahill, W. W. Weaver, Harry Keene, George H. Kelley, Wm. H. Cross, Fred. Schwarz, Jr., L. C. Michaelson, Wm. Boal, J. H. Shaw, Geo. Mitchell, George D'Autrechy, James E. Walsh.
